From the Presidents...

Dear Shelters Family,

We are officially into summer, as our kids have graduated from high school or college--and it is vacation time for so many families. Also at this time of year we get proposals from Israel on what our next project should be to help so many in need.

Karen and I (Dave) went to Cabo for 5 days and believe it or not we bumped into a restaurant that is strictly Kosher. We learned that there are 150 Jewish families in Cabo and they range from reform to orthodox. Rabbi Benny Herschcovich told us that by this time next year they will have a Jewish Center. The food is flown in from Los Angeles or Mexico City. We talked for a long time about religion and Israel along with his operation of the restaurant for the past 5 years. He suggests that we come back for the high holidays.

This experience validates our feelings that we as a PEOPLE are everywhere and our resolve to keep Israel safe is universal. There is so much more we can and need to do to continue supporting Israel. From young kids to Holocaust Survivors, Israel still needs us as individuals and as an organization.

When we sent out our appeal for funding for Pesach Seder meals for Holocaust survivors in Jerusalem a few months ago, the response was both overwhelming and heartwarming; thanks to the many of you who responded immediately, we were able to provide an additional 200 meals/packages to survivors through Hineni Jerusalem organization.

Enjoy your summer (use sunscreen from someone who didn't while growing up), stay healthy and we will provide you with more information regarding our luncheon and future projects as it becomes available.

In the meantime, please save the date: Sunday, Nov 3, 2019 for our annual Shelters for Israel Luncheon.

Divers to retrieve bones of Shoah victims from the Danube River in Budapest

By JEWISH NEWS REPORTER January 14, 2019 (abridged)

An incredible effort by Jewish divers is set to use sonar to retrieve the bones of Holocaust victims shot and thrown into the River Danube in Budapest 75 years ago.

Hundreds of Hungarian Jews were shot and their bodies tossed into the river in 1944 and 1945, where their remains have lain ever since, but this week ZAKA, an Israeli search and rescue organisation, said it had won permission to recover them.

The decision to allow divers to start work was announced after a meeting this week between Israel's Interior Minister Aryeh Deri and his Hungarian counterpart.

Following three years of negotiations, ZAKA divers are set to undertake the "historic task" of retrieving and finally burying the bones of those killed, in accordance with Jewish law.

Divers will use a recently-purchased sonar device which can descend to a depth of 150 meters and scan within 130 meters, quickly identifying objects and transferring the information and exact location to the device operator.

The dive team will be led by ZAKA Special Units Commander Haim Outmezgine, who is currently in Budapest and plans to begin searching this week.

ZAKA Chairman Yehuda Meshi-Zahav said: "This is the final act of chesed that we can do... We see this as a mission of the highest order and value, to do everything we can to finally bring them to burial in accordance with Jewish law."
